

End of Mandate Report

The Honourable Elizabeth Dowdeswell
29th Lieutenant Governor of Ontario
(2014–2023)

A MESSAGE FROM HER HONOUR

The Honourable Elizabeth Dowdeswell

The Lieutenant Governor at an event in support of the Hennick Bridgepoint Hospital, 2019

It is with profound gratitude that I present my End of Mandate Report to the people of Ontario. This report covers the primary themes, key moments, and chief accomplishments during my term as the Lieutenant Governor of Ontario.

It has been an unimaginable privilege to serve in this office for nine years.

And what a momentous nine years it has been. When I reflect on the many changes we have seen since I first pledged to fulfil my vice-regal responsibilities, 2014 might belong to another era altogether. Our years together have been full.

Canada 150. An unprecedented pandemic. The Platinum Jubilee. The passing of Her Late Majesty Queen Elizabeth II and the accession of King Charles III. Increased recognition of, and commitment to, the work of reconciliation. Rapid technological change and the increased fragility of democracies around the world.

Ours is a time in which the pages of history turn swiftly.

Yet I truly believe that during the last nine years, we have seen the best of Ontario.

As the unofficial “Storyteller-in-Chief,” I have been humbled by the stories you have shared. Across the province and on the international stage, your achievements, perseverance, creativity, and compassion have demonstrated that the most remarkable times bring out the most remarkable spirit in all of us.

I hope that the stories and memories in this report inspire you, as much as they have done for me. Through moments great and small, joyful and challenging, you have made me feel justified in calling myself an eternal optimist.

Indeed, I can think of no higher privilege than to have played a role in encouraging Ontario to realize the best version of itself: a resilient, inclusive society committed to sustainability, the safeguarding of democracy, and reconciliation.

As our next chapter begins, may the stories we tell uphold our highest aspirations – and may those aspirations reflect our best selves.

Elizabeth Dowdeswell

Ontario Medal for Police and Firefighter Bravery, 2017

“For more than seventy years, this was a woman who put duty before desire, service above self. And in doing so the Queen’s legacy may be measured by an extraordinary impact on the quality of our national character and the complexion of civic life in Canada.”

Provincial Memorial for Her Majesty the Queen, 2022

CONSTITUTIONAL RESPONSIBILITIES

As the world continues to deal with proliferating challenges and transitions, democracies feel more fragile around the globe. In this increasingly complex and polarized context, Her Honour took her constitutional duties seriously to ensure the health of democracy in Ontario, and to engage with Ontarians about the importance of democracy, and our collective role in safeguarding it.

In Ontario, the Lieutenant Governor exercises the powers of the Crown, which derive from the written constitution, constitutional convention (political rules of the constitution), and statute law. Throughout the course of her term, Her Honour exercised all the constitutional responsibilities of a Lieutenant Governor, including:

- Summoning, proroguing and dissolving the legislature
- Presiding over Royal Assent to bills passed by the Legislative Assembly
- Delivering the Speech from the Throne
- Signing election writs for the 124 ridings in the province
- Swearing in new Executive Councils of Ontario (Cabinets)
- Ordering elections to the Legislative Assembly on the advice of Cabinet, in accordance with the Election Act
- Approving government business, such as regulations and public appointments, by signing Orders-in-Council on the advice of Cabinet

The foundation of Ontario's democracy is "responsible government", which means:

- The Crown acts upon formal advice
- The Government is responsible to the Legislature for its advice

The Government (Premier and Cabinet ministers) is formally appointed by the Lieutenant Governor. Provided the Government enjoys the "confidence" of the Legislative Assembly, its advice is invariably accepted and legitimized by the Crown.

The Lieutenant Governor also meets regularly with the Premier; during their meetings, she has the right to be consulted, to encourage, and to warn on government matters. These meetings remain confidential to promote open and productive dialogue.

The Lieutenant Governor remains strictly nonpartisan in carrying out her constitutional duties. In doing so, the Lieutenant Governor ensures that the democratic will of Ontarians and their elected representatives is upheld.

Representing Ontarians

The Lieutenant Governor acts as a focus for unity and pride. Through official visits to communities, celebrations, and commemorations, she learned about Ontarians' hopes and concerns, as well as the local initiatives in which they take pride. The Lieutenant Governor also represents all Ontarians when interacting with important visitors from outside Ontario and abroad.

Honouring Ontarians

As the Crown's representative, the Lieutenant Governor recognizes Ontarians through the honours system. Honours and awards formally and publicly acknowledge the excellence, achievements, and contributions of role models from all walks of life.

During presentation ceremonies throughout the year, the Lieutenant Governor takes great pride recognizing people who have made a difference to their communities.

Bringing Ontarians Together

The Lieutenant Governor plays an important role in promoting a sense of identity among the people of Ontario, bringing awareness to the need for reconciliation with Indigenous Peoples, and encouraging Ontarians to take part in voluntary service and activities aimed at building more just and sustainable communities.

CORE INITIATIVES

STORYTELLER-IN CHIEF

As Ontario's unofficial "Storyteller-in-Chief," the Honourable Elizabeth Dowdeswell committed to hearing and sharing Ontarians' stories. Their diverse narratives of achievement, resilience, community-building, and service form a treasure trove of experiences to continually learn from and build on. Through hundreds of speeches and initiatives such as Stories of Sustainability and Voices of Ontario, Her Honour showcased the stories of incredible people from across the province.

SUSTAINABILITY

Throughout her tenure, Her Honour encouraged Ontarians to consider sustainability through the lenses of inclusive economic prosperity, social and cultural cohesion, and environmental stewardship. Amid rapid change and uncertainty, these three pillars offer a strong foundation on which to build a resilient Ontario that works for everyone. Through many conferences, lectures, report launches, youth events, art exhibitions and more, Her Honour supported Ontarians in their efforts towards realizing a brighter future for our province and those generations to follow.

ONTARIO IN THE WORLD

Whether representing Ontarians abroad or highlighting their initiatives to international audiences, Her Honour celebrated Ontario's work in building partnerships, spearheading new initiatives, and contributing to sustainability programs around the globe, including the presentation of Awakening, a collection of essays and an art exhibition that was displayed in locations around the world, including the UN Headquarters in New York and Geneva.

RECONCILIATION

The relationship between the Crown and Indigenous Peoples is unique and enduring. Her Honour sought to foster reconciliation by connecting with Indigenous people across the province and facilitating opportunities for learning and dialogue. This has included visits to remote fly-in First Nations, the dedication of the Gi-Chi-Twaa Gimaa Nini Mississauga Anishinaabek AName Amik (The King's Anishinaabek Sacred Place) at Massey College at the University of Toronto, and the creation of the Queen's Platinum Jubilee Garden, which provided the first marker on the grounds of Queen's Park to recognize Treaty 13 and to include an Indigenous language, Anishinaabemowin.

The Lieutenant Governor at a ceremony for the National Day for Truth and Reconciliation at Michael Garron Hospital, 2021

UNFINISHED BUSINESS

Recognizing both the significant role that women and girls have played in Ontario, and the unfinished business that remains, Her Honour launched an initiative to inspire all Ontarians to work toward gender equality and the empowerment of women and girls. Championing women's achievements and examining their challenges, Her Honour brought Ontarians into conversation at the Lieutenant Governor's Suite and across Ontario.

SAFEGUARDING DEMOCRACY

Though democracy can often feel fragile, all Ontarians play a role in safeguarding it. Through art exhibitions – such as the Speaking of Democracy exhibition – official visits to 100 municipalities, and countless community events, Her Honour engaged Ontarians in challenging, timely conversations about our cherished democracy and its future.

KEY MOMENTS

Canada 150

Canada's sesquicentennial was a highly anticipated and much-lauded celebration of our identities and values, and an opportunity for genuine dialogue about who we are, and wish to be, as a people.

From small community events to the Ontario 150 Celebration to the launch of the Lieutenant Governor's Visionaries Prize, Her Honour engaged with thousands of people around the province during the sesquicentennial year.

The Platinum Jubilee:

From Red Lake in the northwest to Renfrew County in the east, the Lieutenant Governor joined Ontarians as they celebrated 70 years of Queen Elizabeth II's reign. Her Honour was moved to hear Ontarians eager to share their memories one generation to another, and was pleased to celebrate the tradition of service, stability, and continuity provided by the Crown.

Bottom: The unveiling of the Platinum Jubilee Garden at Queen's Park, 2022

COVID-19 Pandemic

When the World Health Organization declared the COVID-19 pandemic on March 11, 2020, the world changed almost overnight. Through carrying out her constitutional duties at Queen's Park without interruption to convening a series of thoughtful virtual dialogues, Her Honour aimed to be a steadfast and inclusive presence for Ontarians during uncertain and unprecedented times.

Transition of the Crown

2022 marked the transition of the Crown, with the passing of Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II and the accession of King Charles III. With the continuity of the Crown serving as a source of stability during this time, Ontarians came together to share their collective grief and to support the new Sovereign.

The Honourable Elizabeth Dowdeswell

A portrait of the Honourable Elizabeth Dowdeswell

The Honourable Elizabeth Dowdeswell is the 29th Lieutenant Governor of Ontario and is the longest-serving Lieutenant Governor in the history of the province. As the representative of His Majesty The King, Ms. Dowdeswell carried out constitutional and ceremonial duties and facilitated healthy citizen and community engagement.

Ms. Dowdeswell has served the public interest in all orders of government and in the private sector. She contributed globally as Under-Secretary-General of the United Nations and Executive Director of the United Nations Environment Programme. In Canada, her diverse portfolios have ranged from education and culture to the environment and the management of complex public enquiries. She was the founding president and CEO of the Nuclear Waste Management Organization, and later the president and CEO of the Council of Canadian Academies. She has served on the boards of Canadian and international corporate and non-profit organizations.

After taking office in late 2014, Ms. Dowdeswell challenged Ontarians to think deeply about their roles not just as residents of a province, but as global citizens. Building resilience and sustainability through inclusive economic prosperity, environmental stewardship, and social cohesion, as well as safeguarding democracy, were the focuses of her mandate.

Ms. Dowdeswell has a Bachelor of Science in Home Economics and a teaching certificate from the University of Saskatchewan, as well as a Master of Science in Behavioural Sciences from Utah State University. She is an Officer of the Order of Canada, a Member of the Order of Ontario, and the recipient of numerous distinctions and fellowships. She holds 12 honorary doctorates.

This report presents the highlights of the Honourable Elizabeth Dowdeswell's tenure as 29th Lieutenant Governor of Ontario (2014-2023). It contains but a sample of Ms. Dowdeswell's activities and initiatives since taking office. As a historical record, this report serves as a guide to understanding the varied roles and responsibilities of The Crown's representative in Ontario.
